

Boxer of "Coxey's Army" Fame Wants To Be United States Senator

JACOB S. COXEY

Jacob S. Coxey of Massillon, O., who more than 20 years ago led "Coxey's army" of unemployed on a long march to Washington, filed papers with the secretary of state as an independent candidate for United States senator. In 1894 he led 300 ragged, dirty, hungry, thirsty, weary men down historic Pennsylvania avenue amid the shouts and jeers of a great multitude of Washington's citizens. The marching army composed the "Army of the Commonwealth of Christ." The march was to close of the long tramp which began in Massillon, O., five weeks before, ended at the steps of the capitol of the United States in Washington. The leaders of the army carried staves for support and all sorts of things for camp use. When they attempted as an army to march into the capital grounds they were clubbed back by policemen. In May, 1914, he attempted another march. He reached the capitol but only with about nine men.

OBITUARY

JOHN KELLEY.

The body of John Kelley is still unclaimed at the Cullinan & Mullins' morgue. Mr. Kelley, who was 50 years old, was taken from a lodging house at Water street to St. Vincent's hospital yesterday morning, suffering with urinary oedema. He died there at night.

PATRICK NOLAN.

The funeral of Patrick Nolan of 51 Railroad avenue was held from 10 to 11 o'clock this morning at St. Michael's church. Rev. William F. Blake of Fairfield sang the mass of requiem. The services were attended by many friends of Mr. Nolan. The casket was borne by William McCormack, Lawrence Condon, John Rule and William Henry. Burial was in St. Michael's cemetery.

MAURICE CONNERY.

The funeral of Maurice Connery was largely attended at 9:30 o'clock this morning from the home of his mother, Mrs. John Dwyer, 130 Walnut street, and a half hour later from Sacred Heart church where Rev. William F. Blake of Fairfield sang the mass of requiem. The services were attended by many friends of Mr. Connery. The casket was borne by William McCormack, Lawrence Condon, John Rule and William Henry. Burial was in St. Michael's cemetery.

HARRIET MINOR BISHOP.

Harriet E. Minor, widow of Edward Bishop and mother of Henry E. Bishop, the undertaker, died this morning at Colebrook, Conn., where she had been spending the summer. Death followed an illness of about two weeks. Mrs. Bishop was born in Woodbury, Conn., Nov. 7, 1844. She was the daughter of Deacon Pruman Minor and Harriet Curtis Minor. She lived in this city many years where her husband formerly was a prominent undertaker. Since his death she has resided with her son, at 2699 North avenue. Mrs. Bishop was a member of the South Congregational church and was greatly beloved by all who knew her. She is survived by her son, two grandchildren and a daughter. The funeral will be held, Friday, from the residence of her son.

Rename Miller For Judge of Probate

Judge Paul L. Miller was renominated judge of probate by the Republicans at the probate convention held today at the Republican headquarters in Fairfield avenue. Twenty-four delegates representing Bridgeport, Easton, Monroe and Trumbull unanimously renominated him. O. B. Burton of Trumbull called the delegates together at 12:15. Dr. H. L. Wales of Monroe was made permanent chairman. Howard F. Smith of Bridgeport was chosen temporary secretary, and was succeeded by William R. Kearns as permanent secretary. After the convention the delegates and a number of the friends of Judge Miller were his guests at luncheon at the Seaside Outing club.

PERSONAL MENTION

A 10-pound son arrived this morning at the Bridgeport hospital to Mrs. Reese B. Davis of 139 Parallel street. Dr. DeRyder Howland of Stratford attended Mrs. Davis. Mother and son are doing well. News of the birth of the boy will greatly please Mr. and Mrs. Davis' numerous friends who have so recently sympathized with them in the death of their 10 year old daughter, Marjorie.

PROBE BRIDGE DISASTER.

Quebec, Sept. 19—A coroner's jury today began investigation of the Quebec bridge disaster of Sept. 12, when thirteen workmen were killed with the fall of the central span. The inquest will be followed tomorrow by a broader investigation conducted by the jury for the provincial attorney general. The river has thus far given up the bodies of six of the victims.

Blakeslee Urges Closing Bank St. For Use of City

Alderman Robert N. Blakeslee, who last evening had the common council appoint a committee with a view to purchasing the block bounded by Main, John, Bank and Broad streets, will call to the attention of the aldermen a plan for the purchase of the Franklin building and all the property east of the present city hall on the part of the block bounded by Main, Bank and State streets.

Alderman Blakeslee believes the property can be purchased at present for much less money than it will cost later on and some day the city must take it. He favors buying on both sides and closing Bank street, establishing a municipal center and plaza with modern city hall to house all city departments except, police, charities and health; hall of records, and possibly a new public library, all in modern buildings on a plaza with plenty of lawns and grass in the center. There are other aldermen in the board who favor his plan.
